

Lambast judges in teen DUI's

by GLORIA DAVIS

An increasingly growing number of citizens, politicians and law enforcement officials, from both the states of Wisconsin and Illinois, are working on solving the bi-state teen drinking-driving problem.

Evidence of this was seen in the coincidental holding of a meeting of the Hands Across the Border group at the same time as another police drinking-driving dragnet was going on, on Wednesday, August 18.

As 100 people met in the Tower Room in Antioch to discuss the possibility of convincing the legislature of Wisconsin to raise that state's drinking age to coincide with that of Illinois, 14 police agencies from both sides of the border were busy enforcing the existing laws, trying the use of the long arm of the law and the problems DUI arrests cause to convince teens that if they must drink and drive, they do it according to the law or they will pay a stiff penalty.

It seemed that at least one-third of the people at the "Hands" meeting were politicians bent on jumping on the same bandwagon that the Waukegan News-Sun and the Chicago television stations have in the last year, since public pressure has become more evident.

The News Sun received an award from the "Hands" group for their special section "Blood Border" concerning the numerous teen drinking-driving fatalities but no mention was made of the award winning Lakeland Newspaper and Kenosha News series on the same subject that dealt with the question in 1981 after the first year's accident statistics were available.

The meeting, that was attended by an equal number of people from Illinois and Wisconsin, was chaired by Joseph Schaberger who introduced the three candidates for Kenosha County Sheriff, Kenosha County Sheriff's Deputy Dan Piencikowski, Pleasant Prairie Police Chief Ray Gram and Captain Fred Ekornaas, of the sheriff's department.

All three claimed experience with the teen drinking driving problem as part of their qualifications for the job.

A member of the audience objected to the "politicking" saying she thought that the meeting was to find solutions for the problem.

The fact that none of the candidates had committed themselves to a raise in the Wisconsin drinking age was voiced and Lynn Copen, Kenosha County, one of the spearheaders of the group, said that she had

Planning dept. says landfill okay

by LINDA ADAMS

After hundreds of hours of research, preparation and testimony regarding siting of 30 additional acres of landfill adjacent to the HOD landfill in Antioch, the staff report prepared by the Lake County Health Dept., the Lake County Highway Dept. and the Lake County Dept. of Planning, Zoning and Environmental Quality will be a report recommending approval of the controversial addition, with 42 conditions of approval.

Lane Kendig, director of the planning department, is expected to wind up his summary of the report at 6:30 p.m. Monday, August 23, at the VFW Post on North Ave. in Antioch.

Although a large portion of the report was completed and turned in to the Lake County Board-appointed hearing committee in July prior to the landfill hearings, Kendig said additions and revisions have been made to the report as various testimony has been presented.

Some of the conditions called for in the report include such sensitive matters as monthly monitoring of the monitoring wells by the Lake County Health Dept., health department monitoring on site when sand lenses are encountered in digging and monitoring of the methods of sealing those lenses.

Kendig said, "It's pretty clear when there's a contested site such as Antioch that it's going to be appealed to the pollution control board no matter what the County Board does. The pollution control board must make a finding based on their records.

"From the beginning (when Waste Management, owner of the HOD landfill, first petitioned the county for siting of the landfill), we looked to see if there was a legitimate reason for denial. We believe the only way to protect the community (from the effects of the landfill) is to approve this with conditions.

"I'm not saying we don't have any concerns about the landfill. But you must define concerns as to whether it's sufficient to justify denial. Everybody is concerned about landfills, but the question is whether there is factual data to support making a statement that the design is improper or the soil is improper."

Regarding the higher than expected chemical oxygen demand (COD) value found in village well number four and in surface samples of Sequoit Creek by the landfill, Kendig said, "COD is simply not a parameter that in and of itself is meaningful. Coffee with two tablespoons of sugar has a COD of over 100,000 parts per million (ppm)."

Dr. Thomas Nedzed of the health department said he has concerns about COD values which his department took from the surface water of Sequoit Creek.

According to sampling and testing completed on the creek, Nedzed said the COD value upstream was low, reached its highest value (510 ppm) at the point the creek exits from the landfill and returned to the low value further downstream.

Regarding this unusual pattern of COD in the creek, Nedzed said, "Of course we have a concern (regarding the COD values). It seems to be an anomaly of the data. It's an unexplained occurrence at this time.

"If you look at the data and take the face value of that data, the values (for COD) upstream or downstream have to be an error.

There is no way chemically or biologically that the COD could go from the low values prior to reaching that station (by the landfill) and return to the downstream low value."

Nedzed suggested that more studies would be necessary to make a determination regarding the unusual COD values which must include other parameters beside COD.

County will deny landfill: Fields

by ROGER RUTHHART
Managing Editor

Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields, who represents district four on the county board, says he expects the County Board to deny the petition by Waste Management to expand its Antioch landfill site.

Fields said he bases his prediction on the testimony presented at the hearings, all of which he has attended.

"I think the county will turn it down. I certainly hope so," said Fields. "There's certainly been enough reasons shown under the six criteria to be considered."

Fields said he has been following the landfill application controversy for eight months now. "I'm certainly aware of the problems."

Fields said last fall he went to County Board Chairman Glenn Miller, building department Director Robert Streicher and other department heads. "I told them to get off their ass and do something, but they didn't get to it until it hit Antioch," said Fields of the county's long-term side-stepping of the landfill siting issue.

Fields, although not directly involved in the hearings on the Antioch site, is a member of the regional pollution control committee. Fields served during hearings on the Browning Ferris Industries' waste application in Zion.

Quilts anyone

According to Sue Glenn, secretary of the Lakes Region Historical Society, there will be a meeting of that society at 7:30 p.m., on Thursday, August 26, at the State Bank of Antioch.

After the regular business meeting, the evening's entertainment will be supplied by Jean Haake (The Quilt Lady), Lindenhurst, who will give an interesting program on old quilts.

Anyone who has old quilts is urged to bring them to the meeting for display.

State aid cuts cause school belts to tighten

School bells will be tolling as usual in Antioch during the last week in August but the schools will be operating this year under a slight handicap since all schools will be getting less state aid this year.

The main causes for the state aid loss are the ever declining enrollments and increasing assessed valuations.

The total loss of state aids to Lake County Schools amounts to $4,125,848.

Antioch Grade School District aid went from $701,827 in 1981-82, to $537,797 for the 1982-83 school year, a loss of $164,030.

Emmons Grade School lost $6,126 in state aid, with the total granted them by the state going from $35,630 in 1981-82, to $29,504 in 1982-83.

Grass Lake School will be operating with $78,594 less in its coffers this school year, with last year's state aid of $146,267 cut to $67,673.

Antioch Community High School's budget

this year has $243,411 less in the receivables column. The high school's state aid has gone from $1,453,142 for the 1981-82 school year, to $1,209,000 for 1982-83.

Antioch Grade School Supt. Donald Skidmore said, "We were only $8,000 off in our anticipated loss of state aides but it still hurts. We kept our personnel salary increases moderate and just tightened our belts so that we could balance the budget."

Warren Polley, Antioch High School superintendent, said, "Our cuts of $240,000 amount to $20,000 less a month but we expected it so we cut a little here and a little there in the budget to put the expected revenues in perspective."

Students of Emmons Grade School will be back in school on Friday, August 27, so will the freshman of Antioch High School.

All high school classes will be in session on Monday, August 30, as will all the classes at Grass Lake and Antioch Grade Schools.

Feltner trial to go Sept. 21

The defense attorney for Larry Feltner, 30, Waukegan, made a motion, that was accepted on Tuesday, August 17, to go to trial in front of Lake County Circuit Court Judge Emmilo Santi, on Tuesday, Sept. 21.

Feltner faces multiple charges that include driving with a suspended license, reckless driving, fleeing and eluding an officer, improper lane usage, speeding, and running four stop signs.

Feltner was arrested just after midnight, on Tuesday, May 18, after a high-speed chase through Antioch that ended where it started at the intersection of Rte. 83 and North Ave.

Feltner's car burst into flame after it hit several obstacles and rolled.

SAVING A LOST TOOTH

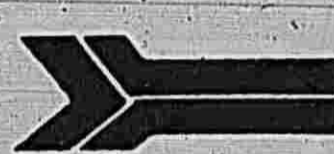

Q. My neighbor's son knocked his front teeth out in an accident. Could anything have been done to save the tooth?

A. Very often teeth which have been knocked out can be saved. The most important factor in saving such a tooth is TIME. The tooth can be re-implanted into its proper position in the jaw. The chances of success are good if re-implantation is performed within an hour of the accident. The tooth should be kept moist and warm, either in the patient's mouth or a wet towel. The patient and tooth must be brought to the dentist immediately. Don't attempt to clean or scrape the tooth yourself, as you can damage it. The re-implanted tooth is splinted in place for several weeks. Root canal treatment may be necessary. The successfully re-implanted tooth can continue to function as a perfectly normal tooth.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. R. A. Sona,
OPTOMETRIST

CHEAP SUNGLASSES NO BARGAIN

If you merely want to shade your eyes from the sun while driving or playing tennis, cheap sunglasses may seem to do the job.

But you get what you pay for. Good sunglasses are recommended because they have better quality lenses and sturdier frames. They'll wear longer and give you better vision than cheap sunglasses. If you want less distortion, better sunglasses are the better buy.

People who wear eyeglasses or contact lenses to correct vision problems often like to wear sunglasses, too, especially on hot, bright summer days when the light is intense. No problem here. Your optometrist can prescribe the same correction to be used in sunglasses as you use in your regular glasses. It's done all the time.

Don't be fooled into thinking that over-the-counter sunglasses will cure any vision problems you may have merely because they reduce the glare of the sun. They won't. If you experience blurriness, eyestrain or headaches, you should have an eye examination to find out why. Don't take a chance with your eyesight.

Grade school budget up, levy to stay same

by GLORIA DAVIS

According to Supt. Don Skidmore, the board of education of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 has approved a tentative budget of $3,695,335.50 for the 1982-83 school year.

Compared to last year's actual expenditures of $3,630,119.21, including the $74,000 for on site construction, this shows a 1.8 percent increase.

If the on site construction monies is not included it shows a 3.85 increase.

The board is asking for a levy of $2.444 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. Compared to last year's 2.46, the levy will be substantially the same.

The budget approval took place at the regular monthly meeting of the board, held on Tuesday, August 17.

Other business transacted at that meeting included the board's approval of the spending of up to $8,000 to update the security system of the junior high school and change it from the over sensitive ultrasonic units now being used to an infrared stationary system being used in the other grade school buildings.

The members of the board also voted to direct its SEDOL representative, Clint Glover, to vote no on the SEDOL 1982-83 budget because, according to Skidmore, "We can't in good conscience vote for a budget that shows an increase of 14.4 percent with salary raises of eight percent when the local school budget only shows a 3.8 percent increase, which includes pay to SEDOL."

Tell library programs

The Antioch Township has announced new library programs, slated to start on Monday, Sept. 6, and run until the end of December.

On Thursdays, 12:30 p.m., or Fridays at 10:30 a.m. there will be a story hour for pre-school children.

This program shall last half an hour. It will include stories, movies, and crafts.

On Saturdays at 10:30 a.m. there will be a story hour for kindergarten through second grade. This program shall last one hour and will include stories, movies and crafts.

Story hours are limited to 15. Sign up is on a first come, first serve basis. Pajama story hour will be open to all and will not require advance registration.

On Saturdays, at 2 p.m. a theatre group for students in grades three through five. This program will include an introduction to theatre, some basic acting techniques will be taught, and the finals will be a Christmas play.

On the third Monday evening of every month, at 7 p.m., there will be a pajama story hour for children of pre-school age through second grade.

This program shall last half an hour. Children are invited to wear their pajamas.

To register, call or stop at the circulation desk in the library and sign up. Antioch Township Library, (312) 395-0874.

Twirlers to sell candy

Alyce's All-Star Baton Twirlers will be selling candy bars at the State Bank of Antioch on Friday, August 27. These twirlers are raising money to go to Hawaii next June for the Hawaiian International Baton Twirling Contest.

The candy bars are a milk chocolate crunch with crisp rice and sell for 50 cents a bar. The girls are with the Antioch Parks and Recreation Program. Anyone interested in taking baton lessons can contact the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. for further information on classes.

Editorial:

No time to 'waste' in planning

The landfill hearings just completed concerning the expansion of Waste Management's Antioch landfill have only magnified the county's shortcomings when it comes to planning for future landfill siting.

With few pre-described guidelines, members of the county's regional pollution control committee conducting the hearings will be flying by the seat of their pants when it comes to making a recommendation to the County Board.

Without any guidelines, we're concerned that an attitude of "Put it in Antioch so it won't end up in my back yard" will prevail when it comes to the County Board acting on the siting application.

It's time that Lake County address where it is going to put its waste in the future.

Several times in the past, the feasibility of establishing a county landfill or county waste disposal and recycling operation have been discussed.

It's now time to take such action off the back burner and turn up the heat.

Arguments against a waste and resource recycling operation, operated by the county, have stressed that the operation would not be a money making one. Others argue that the county should not be in the landfill business.

We certainly feel that's not the case. No one can argue the need to be much more conscious of recycling our precious resources. While on the surface such a disposal and recycling operation might not make money, we believe that any money that might be lost would be more than made up in the benefit to the environment and property values that such an operation would bring as opposed to building more landfills. And if Waste Management can make money in the landfill business, why must Lake County lose money. A county operated waste operation would assure maximum protection of neighboring property, ground water and the environment as well as maximum compliance with pollution guidelines.

We believe that it's an issue that should be addressed by candidates on the ballot at the county level this November and an issue for immediate consideration by the county board upon its reorganization.

The issue should be one of paramount importance in the selection of a new county board chairman and his or her committee appointments.

News/OPINION

When I think about it

Life is 'initially' great!

by GLORIA DAVIS

It seems that the latest status symbol being vocally utilized by most with-it adults these days is the carefully planned, careless tossing about of the names of those organizations and bureaus that are easily identified by their capitalized initials.

In other words we all seem to be initial dropping.

The names of these ominous initialed monsters constantly creep into almost every conversation and one can't read a page of the newspaper without being blasted by them as they're found in most of the headlines.

For instance, each and every day can be considered a BOLD LETTER one when you realize how many of these organizations are involved with our daily lives.

We are awakened by our clock radios to the blare of the latest rock hit roaring from our favorite FM radio station. In the interest of saving the few nerves we might have left, we are saved by a speedy flick of the switch to a favorite AM station and the early morning news which of course is being broadcast by an NBC affiliate or is it CBS?

Then we down a small glass of OJ and a cup of coffee and any other cooked breakfast foods made in appliances powered by DC current. If that old reliable AMC car decides it needs a day of rest and won't start, we can always rely on the good old RTA for a ride to work, that is if we happen to work in Illinois.

As we read our morning newspaper on the way to work we find out that the KKK has reared its ugly hooded head again down south and the NAACP is marching through the streets of Atlanta protesting its latest flaming escapade.

On page two we read where the VA has found more evidence of damage done when Agent Orange was used during the Vietnam war and we also read that most of the VA housing loans have been taken over by the FHA.

With the stock market trading at an all time high, a quick check of the financial pages tells us that our AT&T stock has gone up.

While at work we hear a fellow employee complain that her husband is up in arms about the latest intervention of the DNR and the EPA into areas that seem to be out of their realm.

Since it's payday we anxiously open that coveted envelope, vainly hoping to discover what we consider to be a well deserved raise, only to find the usual paltry remnant of a salary after the IRS and FICA have finished with it.

A fleeting foolhardy plan for fleeing without paying taxes is quickly erased when we realize that they'd probably get the CIA and the FBI after us.

On second thought we come to the conclusion that no matter what our problems, living in the good old U.S.A., we have it better than those in the U.S.S.R. because then we'd have the KGB after us just for entertaining those two thoughts.

On the way home we pass a factory being picketed by members of the CIO and the AF of L and we wonder if union demands wouldn't be so high if less people would be receiving ADC checks.

But all in all, we decide that life isn't so bad because it dawns on us that it's the end of the week and we can spend the weekend watching tv as the NFC and the AFC of the NFL beat their brains out on NBC, CBS and ABC. TGIF!

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

The "Sparks" in the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Dixie, has asked me to urge all Chamber members to attend the next small business seminar to be held at noon, on Tuesday, August 31, at the Windjammer Restaurant on Rte. 173.

After the luncheon, the main speaker will be T. Richard Stahler, senior vice-president and creative director for Aaron D. Cushman Assoc.

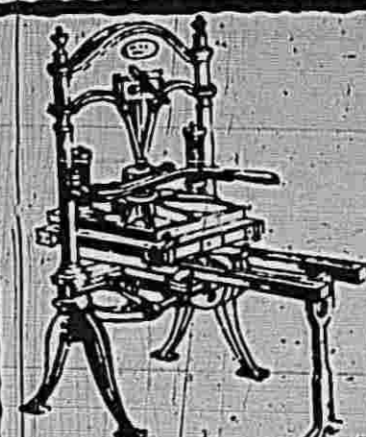

His subject will be personal relations and marketing. For a long time many local businessmen have been heard to complain, "What does the Chamber do for me?" Now that it has planned this series of business seminars to help its members, everyone is urged to support them by their attendance.

I see that my editor Gloria Davis got an award for her display of sheer nerve at the Wilmot Speedway. Boy some people will do anything to get a plaque!

With all the summer sidewalk sales, home garage sales etc., I suppose you feel that you have bought enough second hand goods lately. Well try for just one more. You never can tell, maybe you'll find that treasure you've been looking for and all for a mere pittance! The Antioch seniors will be having a rummage sale on Thursday, August 26, and Friday, August 27, at the Senior Center. Thursday's goodies will be on display from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Friday, the sale will take place from 1 to 5 p.m.

A lady sent me a copy of a letter she received from the Chamber in answer to her request for a list of local motels and camping sites.

The letter told her there would be a $3 charge for such a list. Now I know that the cost of mailing and printing has skyrocketed but maybe one of the Chamber's benefit drives could raise money to pay for such brochures so that they could be given out gratis like most areas do.

'Guys & Dolls' to visit Antioch's PM&L next

One of America's classic musical hits, "Guys And Dolls," by Frank Loesser, Jo Swerling, and Abe Burrows, will be the opening show PM&L Theatre's Season 22.

This funny musical fable of Broadway, based upon a story and characters by Damon Runyan, will be presented Sept. 17, 18, 24, 25, Oct. 1 and 2, at 8:30 and Sept. 26 at 2:30 p.m.

The theatre is located at 877 Main St. in Antioch. The play is being directed by veteran Lou Jones and his stage manager is the equally experienced Elmarie Beno.

Peter Thelen is vocal music director and Steve Porch is handling the piano. Donna Badtke will be the show's choreographer. Dave Carlson will handle the lights and Tom Hausman is in charge of costume coordination.

With this talented and experienced staff, the show is sure to be a hit. Reservations can be made at (312) 395-3055. The new ticket prices will be in effect for this show. Adults will be $4.50, senior citizens will be $3.50, and students thru high school will be $2.50.

To save on box office prices, PM&L's new system of season passes is now on sale. The full pass for all six shows during the year is $18; the Friday-Sunday performance only pass is $15; the senior citizen pass is $12; the student pass is $8.50; and the mini-pass, which is good for any three of the six shows is $10.

The sale of all but the mini-pass will end at the close of the run of Guys And Dolls. For more information on these passes, call (312) 395-3055 or write to Betty Smouse — 516 Winsor Dr., Antioch 60002 or to Tom Hausman — 636 Garys Dr., Antioch 60002 and you will be sent an information brochure with a pass choice coupon to fill out.

The other shows in Season 22 will be: "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker," in November; "Morning's At Seven," in February; "The Gramercy Ghost," in April; "The Sly Fox" in June; and "Stop The World, I Want To Get Off," in July.

Wilmot sprints adds antique racing cars

A dozen or more open wheel antique sprint and midget racing cars will be displayed and raced for an added attraction at the Wilmot Winged Open Sprints on Saturday night, August 28 at the Wilmot Speedway.

Oldest among the group will be the Don Lockwood, Chicago, double overhead cam Dryer sprinter built in 1937 by Pop Dryer of Indianapolis, Ind.

All of these cars will be displayed where the fans can get close to them and talk to the owners who performed the restoration.

All will race in one exhibition event between the 25-lap "B" Main and the 50 lap "A" Main for the winged sprints.

LARGEST PONTOON SAILS — Largest pontoon boat on the Chain O'Lakes can be seen sailing from Steiz's Resort on Bluff Lake. It is 73 feet by 14 feet, supported by 26, 275 gallon oil tanks, powered by 20 horsepower motor. For cruise information call, (312) 395-4050.

ACHS Pom Poners perform at Wisconsin State Fair

Appearing at the Allstate Pom Pon Competition at the Wisconsin State Fair on Sunday, August 8, before a crowd of 28,500 spectators was the Antioch High School Pom Pon Squad.

The squad competed for monetary awards and trophies against 49 other midwest pom pon squads. They danced, kicked and shook their pom pons in practiced precision to the song "Jungle Love".

The day-long competition ended with Fairest of the Fair, Kay Matthys and Jack Nelson, public affairs manager at the Milwaukee Regional Allstate office, presenting first place awards and commemorative gold charms to Germantown-Washington High School in class A (over 1,100 students) and Roncalli High School-Manitowoc in class B.

In addition, all girls received a patch to wear on their uniforms, compliments of the Allstate Insurance, for participating in the competition.

Competitions like this one give recognition to the hard-working, talented young women athletes of the Antioch Community High School pom pon squad. Their endless energy, enthusiasm and smiles added spirit and color to the 1982 Wisconsin State Fair.

Wisconsin Governor Lee Sherman Dreyfus proclaimed Sunday, August 8, as Pom Pon Appreciation Day in honor and appreciation of the fine achievements of the midwestern pom pon squads.

First Bank promotes 3

Peter J. Clevon, president of First National Bank of Antioch, has announced on behalf of the bank's board of directors, the promotions of Kenneth Nagel to senior vice president, Louis Korom III to vice president and cashier and Glenn Hendrickson to assistant vice president.

Ken Nagel is a graduate of Youngstown State University in Youngstown Ohio and the Wisconsin School of Banking. He is a member of the Antioch Rotary and Lions Clubs and is vice president of the Antioch Vikings Football League. Ken, his wife Brenda, and their children Matt, Amber and Kendra reside in Lindenhurst.

Lou Korom III received his B.S. degree in Finance from the University of Akron in 1975 and holds the American Institute of Banking's basic and standard certificates. He is a member of the Antioch Lions Club and serves on the council of St. Stephen Lutheran Church in Antioch. Lou, his wife Terry and their son Louis IV reside in Antioch.

Glenn Hendrickson holds a bachelor of arts degree in business administration from Carthage College and has attended several American Institute of Banking courses. Glenn is a member of the Antioch Lions Club and he and his wife Rynee reside in Wilmet.

Mulder joins First Bank

Peter J. Clevon, president of The First National Bank of Antioch, announced that Jeffrey B. Mulder has joined the bank and will serve as the marketing director.

Jeff is an Antioch High School graduate and has received his bachelor of business degree in marketing from Western Illinois University in Macomb.

At Western, Mulder was active in The American Marketing Assn., Phi Beta Lambda (professional business fraternity), Management Society and was a member of Theta Chi Fraternity.

He traveled on a European business seminar recently visiting Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, and Greece.

The seminar investigated business policy, strategy and structure in an international context through readings and direct contact with high level executives. Companies on the itinerary included Caterpillar Tractor in Geneva, Litton Industries in Rome, and Bank of America and IMB in Athens.

Lambast judges

asked them to talk about what they could do as leaders of a law enforcement agency since they could not change the law.

All three announced that they were in favor of a 21 year-old drinking age.

Pienickowski took the defensive when he said "We in Wisconsin are not killers," using newspaper advertisements to point out that underage Illinois teens are being enticed into bars to listen to rock music on the south side of the border.

A member of the audience argued that they were not allowed to drink if they were under 21 but Pienickowski accused him of living in a fairyland if he thought that the bar was capable of policing all under age teens.

"No one under our legal drinking age is allowed in a bar in Wisconsin," he said.

Illinois politicians were not to be overshadowed. Dan Mason, candidate for Lake County Sheriff, said the police and legislators for working on the problem but lambasted the judges for the plea bargaining and light penalties handed down to those charged with drunk driving.

State Rep. Donald Deuster, (R-Mundelein), who is also a candidate for the state senate, was there to offer Wisconsin his help in raising its drinking age since he claimed to have been instrumental in raising the Illinois age in 1979.

Robert Gesiakowski, legislature candidate from Antioch, called for good-parental example.

Dan DeFosse, candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives, called for a majority age of 21.

In answer to the "if they're old enough to be drafted," argument, an ex-Marine officer from the audience said that 18 year olds in the armed services were under the control of the service but were not allowed to exercise their own judgement.

"We didn't trust them with ammunition in the barracks, they are not old enough to drink legally," he said.

Much of the discussion centered on the lack of stiff penalties meted out by the judges and a court watch was encouraged.

David Gates, from the Northern Illinois Council on Alcohol, said, "We must convince drunken drivers that this is unacceptable behavior."

Suggestions were made that since it seemed to be the bands that drew the teens to Wisconsin, teen bands be featured, along with soft drinks, in Illinois.

Schaberger said that it would be up to the teens themselves to organize this or it wouldn't work.

The reverse problem of Wisconsin drinkers of all ages filling the highways to Illinois after the bars close in Wisconsin brought a cry for matching bar closing hours.

Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller announced on Thursday, August 19, that all the media coverage and the police crackdowns must be doing some good.

With 14 law enforcement agencies, from Harvard to Sheridan Rd., that included every county, state, and local police force along the border after the drinking driver, 447 traffic stops were made.

There were 18 DUI arrests, 44 open intoxicant arrests, 89 other traffic arrests, 263 warnings issued, and three drug possession arrests, made.

Miller said, "We made as many stops as we did on either the Friday or Saturday night of the last dragnet but there were less DUI arrests, showing that the kids are still coming over the state line but are paying more attention to the law."

"We made many stops where the owner of the car was drunk in the back seat and a sober friend was driving," he added.

The dragnet started at 8 p.m. and went until 3:30 a.m. and involved 514 man hours.

Landfill okay

Nedzed said he believes most of the error occurred in the sampling process and pointed out that obtaining a representative sample from a creek like Sequoit Creek is very difficult and complex.

"I don't know if the higher COD value is related to the landfill. I think further testing should be done prior to approval of the landfill. There's still an element of the unknown here and there is still a suspicion (that the high value is related to the landfill).

"Until we put that suspicion to rest, people will be worried. Let's obtain the truth of the matter. If it's (the high COD value) occurring due to the landfill, then let's find out and get it fixed. The data should be definitive enough so we can know with a high degree of assurance that nothing is occurring."

When questioned if he was not concerned regarding Waste Management's somewhat dubious track record from the HOD landfill and other landfills it operates, Nedzed said, "That's why we put in all the conditions. If this site is approved by the county, it will be a landfill site which will be more carefully monitored. We (the health department) will have more rights as a regulatory agency to come on the landfill and look at the materials that are going in there to assure ourselves as much as possible that the landfill is operated properly."

Whether the county board should decide to approve or deny the landfill, the decision will most likely be appealed to the pollution control board and whether it is approved or denied by that board, it will most likely be appealed to the appellate court.

Schaberger said that it would be up to the teens themselves to organize this or it wouldn't work.

The reverse problem of Wisconsin drinkers of all ages filling the highways to Illinois after the bars close in Wisconsin brought a cry for matching bar closing hours.

Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller announced on Thursday, August 19, that all the media coverage and the police crackdowns must be doing some good.

With 14 law enforcement agencies, from Harvard to Sheridan Rd., that included every county, state, and local police force along the border after the drinking driver, 447 traffic stops were made.

There were 18 DUI arrests, 44 open intoxicant arrests, 89 other traffic arrests, 263 warnings issued, and three drug possession arrests, made.

Miller said, "We made as many stops as we did on either the Friday or Saturday night of the last dragnet but there were less DUI arrests, showing that the kids are still coming over the state line but are paying more attention to the law."

"We made many stops where the owner of the car was drunk in the back seat and a sober friend was driving," he added.

The dragnet started at 8 p.m. and went until 3:30 a.m. and involved 514 man hours.

Landfill okay

Nedzed said he believes most of the error occurred in the sampling process and pointed out that obtaining a representative sample from a creek like Sequoit Creek is very difficult and complex.

"I don't know if the higher COD value is related to the landfill. I think further testing should be done prior to approval of the landfill. There's still an element of the unknown here and there is still a suspicion (that the high value is related to the landfill).

"Until we put that suspicion to rest, people will be worried. Let's obtain the truth of the matter. If it's (the high COD value) occurring due to the landfill, then let's find out and get it fixed. The data should be definitive enough so we can know with a high degree of

When questioned if he was not concerned regarding Waste Management's somewhat dubious track record from the HOD landfill and other landfills it operates, Nedzed said, "That's why we put in all the conditions. If this site is approved by the county, it will be a landfill site which will be more carefully monitored. We (the health department) will have more rights as a regulatory agency to come on the landfill and look at the materials that are going in there to assure ourselves as much as possible that the landfill is operated properly."

Whether the county board should decide to approve or deny the landfill, the decision will most likely be appealed to the pollution control board and whether it is approved or denied by that board, it will most likely be appealed to the appellate court.
